Notes

Customs & Culture 习俗&文化

● Miao Dance and Music 苗族舞乐

In Guizhou, the Miao people perform the Lusheng Dance, where people dance to the tune of the Lusheng. Their movements are agile and flexible, and many of them imitate animal forms, showing their love and awe for nature.

● Miao Embroidery 苗族刺绣

Miao embroidery is an epic art on fingertips. The embroiderers use flying needles to transform silk threads into flowers, birds, fish, insects, myths and legends.

The needlework is rich and varied, and the embroidery is colorful. Every stitch is filled with love for life, and every thread inherits the memory of the nation for thousands of years. It is a unique business card of Miao culture, which is eye-catching and intriguing.

● Miao Batik Technique 苗族蜡染技艺

Miao wax-dyeing uses beeswax as ink and indigo as color to draw lines and patterns on cloth. After wax-dyeing, immersion dyeing, wax removal and other processes, a series of blue and white, simple and elegant works are born.

● Torch Festival of the Yi Nationality 彝族火把节

As night falls, torches are lit, and the festival instantly becomes a sea of light. People dance around the bonfire, with the boys being strong and the girls being graceful. This is a tribute to fire, dispelling darkness and evil spirits, and praying for a prosperous life.

● Miao Silver Horn 苗饰银角

The Miao silver horn is undoubtedly the most dazzling pearl in the Miao clothing culture. It has a unique shape, mostly based on the horns of buffaloes, tall and majestic, fully demonstrating the Miao people's respect for natural creatures. The main body of the silver horn is made of pure silver, and the surface is carefully engraved with fine and complex patterns, including flowers, birds, fish and insects that symbolize auspiciousness, as well as mythological stories that tell the history of the nation. Its craftsmanship is exquisite, and every detail shows the superb skills of Miao craftsmen.
